Incentive Programs

The Water Use Efficiency Department at the Municipal Water District of Orange County takes pride in providing programs to assist residential homeowners, commercial/industrial business owners, and professional landscapers in reducing the daily amount of water used. Since water is one of the most valuable resources in Southern California, it is very important to use this precious natural resource wisely. Several programs are administered by the Water Use Efficiency Department to assist in the effort of saving water, including the rebate programs listed below.
